St Peter's Church, Cambridge Road, Harrogate, HG1 1PB

Come and hear St Peter's organ!

On Bank Holiday Monday 28th August at 2:00 pm there is an opportunity to hear St Peter's organ outside a liturgical context. I'm giving a recital of popular pieces, some of which have been heard as organ voluntaries over the years, and others which have a more secular nature. We're also serving cream teas afterwards!

There will be music by J S Bach, the greatest of the German 18th century organ composers, and César Franck who occupied a similar position in 19th century France. There will also be one or two pieces of a much lighter nature, so there should be something to suit all tastes.

The admission charge is £10, and this includes a cream tea afterwards. All proceeds will go towards music at St Peter's: in particular our forthcoming performance of Bach's Mass in B Minor on 27th March next year.

Please come and support us!

Creationtide or the Season of Creation

This is the period in the church year, from 1st September to 4th October, dedicated to God as Creator and Sustainer of all life. The symbol for the Season of Creation 2023 is a Mighty River.

The prophet Amos cries out: 'But let justice roll on like a river, righteousness like a never-failing stream!' Amos 5:24. As the people of God, we are asked to work together on behalf of all Creation, as part of that mighty river of peace and justice to speak out with and for communities most impacted by climate injustice and the loss of biodiversity.

How Green is God's Mission?

by The Revd Dr Jan Goodair, Area Environment Champion, Leeds

Some years ago, the Anglican Church spelled out what are referred to as the Five Marks of Mission. Almost every organization has a Mission Statement these days, from schools and hospitals to big businesses and charitable organisations. They have all borrowed the idea from the Church, wanting to state clearly why they exist and what they are trying to do. The Anglican Church's Five Marks of Mission look like this:

1. To proclaim the good news of the Kingdom.
2. To teach, baptise and nurture new believers.
3. To respond to human need by loving service.
4. To transform unjust structures of society, to challenge violence of every kind and pursue peace and reconciliation.
5. To strive to safeguard the integrity of creation, and sustain and renew the life of the earth.

At first glance it looks as if only the last of these has anything to do with caring for God's creation, and it has been put last so maybe it's the least important; maybe we should be out there trying to convert everyone and bring them into the church; maybe we should be limiting our efforts in mission mostly to the human sphere. I think not. Let me try to explain why.

Firstly, our scriptures tell us that the good news of the kingdom is good news for the whole creation and not just the human bits of it. So, secondly, when we are teaching and nurturing new believers, one of the things we need to be teaching them about is God's love for all of creation.

Thirdly, if we are serious about responding to human need, then we have to be serious about recognising and responding to the climate emergency which is already causing so much suffering to our sisters and brothers in various parts of the world. Fourthly, we have to recognise the violence that we do to the natural world and to the other-than-human creatures with whom we share the world. Transforming unjust structures - such as those that have protected wealthy, polluting nations from paying the price of the damage caused across the globe – will help us to address many of these issues.

That final mark of mission is implicit within the other four: we can't engage in our mission without 'going green'. We have been called to take the good news of peace, justice, renewal and reconciliation to the whole world.

'Are we nearly there yet?' No, but the journey has most definitely begun. God calls us to announce the kingdom and to witness to its values – to be a sort of foretaste of it through the way we choose to live. That's why the Church of England has set itself the target of getting to Net Zero Carbon by 2030. That's why churches across the diocese register with the Eco Church Award scheme.

We are trying to change the way we think and act on everything from how we heat the church and manage our land through to the tea and coffee that we serve at church events. It's all part of the 'deep green' mission God has entrusted to us.

The Cenotaph Centenary: *More than a Name on a Memorial

This year marks the centenary of Harrogate's war memorial, which was unveiled on 1st September 1923. It records the names of the 1,163 local people who died in the two World Wars. To mark this anniversary an exhibition 'More than a Name on a Memorial' held at West Park URC will tell each of their stories. Nigel McClea is asking for volunteers to help steward this event which will run every Friday, Saturday and Sunday from Friday 1st September to 12th November (Remembrance Sunday). Please email Nigel at mccleas@yahoo.com if you can help.

Exhibition of Icons at Ripon Cathedral

From 4th September to 16th September 2023 there will be an exhibition of icons painted by the Revd Canon Ian Holdsworth of the Yorkshire School of Icons. Before he was ordained Ian trained at Sheffield Polytechnic faculty of Art. Since then he has studied Iconography in Serbia, Russia, Italy and many schools in the country.

In recent times Icons have become more widely used and venerated in the western Church. They have a depth and power which draws one into a deeper prayer life. Icons for all their newness in the west are part of the ancient common heritage of our Church. They have always been seen as a means of communication of the Gospel.

Then from Monday 2nd – Friday 6th October the Revd Canon Ian Holdsworth will lead a five day Icon Painting Workshop at Ripon Cathedral. Over the course of the week each participant will be guided by Ian and will paint their own icon. This will be a spiritual exercise as well as a learning and creative opportunity. No previous experience is needed, and guidance will be given at every stage. All equipment, materials and expert tuition are included in the price of £210.
